RAJYA SABHA

The following Bills were introduced in the Rajya Sabha on 6th May, 2005:—

I

BILL No. XXXIV OF 2005

A Bill further to amend the Constitution of India.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Fifty-sixth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Constitution (Amendment) Act, 2005.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

2. In article 217 of the Constitution, in clause (1), for the word “sixty-two”, the word “sixty-five” shall be substituted.

Short title and commencement.

Amendment of article 217.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Constitution of India compels a Judge of the High Court to retire on completion of the age of sixty-two years, whereas a Judge of the Supreme Court retires at the age of sixty-five. This is arbitrary and illogical in the extreme. The health and intellectual capacity of a Judge of the High Court do not get enhanced by promotion to the Supreme Court. Prescribing a uniform age of retirement for both shall prevent the unseemly scramble for promotion amongst senior Judges of the High Court.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Indian industries are poised to be wiped out by unfair trade practices being adopted by the Multinational Companies (MNCs). They are taking advantage of their deep pockets rendering Indian Companies to incur huge losses to drive them out of business. In the aftermath of liberalisation and globalisation of economy competition has increased leading to increase in the number of foreign products available resulting in reduction of prices. There are instances in India, where MNCs have put their prices down to make the business of others down. If it is analysed, it is nothing but a predatory pricing policy being adopted by these companies to make the Indian industry sick, so that MNCs can buy them. With foreign competition really hotting up and engulfing Indian Industry, clearly such a Governing Body is required urgently for protecting Indian Companies from fierce competition with MNCs.

Hence this Bill.

9. The Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette make rules to give effect to provisions of this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Rapid increase in the population has given rise to many socio-economic problems like poverty, food, housing shortage, unemployment, environmental degradation, etc. We are the second most populous country after China. If the present trend continues, it will not be possible for us to tackle the socio-economic problems which would be beyond control due to population explosion. It is, therefore, imperative that certain effective steps should be taken to check the increasing growth of our population. Since our resources are limited, proper upbringing of children is possible only if the size of the family is limited. Despite existence of various birth control measures and various family planning programmes, the problem of over population still remains.

The Bill, therefore, seeks to promote voluntary sterilization among the eligible couples having two children and also provides for certain measures like providing free education and employment to one child for promoting small family norms in the future generation.

Hence this Bill.

T. SUBBARAMI REDDY

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clause 4 of the Bill provides for certain benefits to be given to those who undergo sterilization voluntarily. The Central Government shall have to incur some expenditure for implementing the provisions of this Bill in respect of Union Government and the Government of Union Territories. The State Governments will incur expenditure in respect of their State out of their respective consolidated funds. The Bill, therefore, will involve an annual recurring expenditure of about rupees fifty crore every year from the Consolidated Fund of India.

No non-recurring expenditure is likely to be involved.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 9 of the Bill empowers the Central Government to make rules for carrying out the provisions of the Bill. As the rules to be made relate to matters of detail only, the delegation of legislative power is of a normal character.

VI

BILL NO. XIII OF 2005

A Bill further to amend the Constitution of India.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Fifty-sixth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Constitution (Amendment) Act, 2005.

(2) It shall come into force on such date, as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

Amendment
of article
51A.

2. In article 51A of the Constitution in clause (e), after the words, "dignity of women;" the words "to protect and safeguard women from harassment, mental and physical abuse and to desist from giving or taking dowry or encouraging or advocating the same;" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Women constitute half of the total population in the country. But they are harassed, abused, insulted and neglected. Of late, there has been a spurt in dowry related cases resulting in the death of the woman. Punishment of culprits involves a long time lag. Cases in courts linger for long. Law alone cannot prevent maltreatment of women. It is necessary to educate people and to sensitize them on gender related issues. It is the duty of every citizen of the country to renounce violence against woman, desist from giving or taking dowry and protect women from crimes. It is, accordingly, proposed to amend the Constitution so as to include this aspect as a fundamental duty of every citizen.

Hence this Bill.

T. SUBBARAMI REDDY

VII

BILL NO. XVIII OF 2005

A Bill further to amend the Constitution of India.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Fifty-sixth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Constitution (Amendment) Act, 2005.

2. After article 21A of the Constitution, the following article shall be inserted, namely:—

“21B. All citizens having a family shall have the right to a dwelling unit with all modern facilities in accordance with such norms as Parliament may by law prescribe.

Explanation.*—For the purposes of this article “Family” means husband, wife and two minor children.”

Short title.

Insertion of new article
21B.

Right to dwelling unit.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Shelter is the basic necessity for sustaining life. Right to life and other guarantees for the well-being of the citizens enshrined in the Constitution are meaningless for the millions of persons who have no shelter. It is necessary that right to shelter is guaranteed and made a fundamental right.

Hence this Bill.

T. SUBBARAMI REDDY

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clause 2 of the Bill provides that each family shall have the right to dwelling unit. The Bill, if enacted, will involve expenditure for providing houses to families who are not having houses. Though housing basically is a State subject, yet the Central Government has to give grants to the State Governments for implementing the provisions of the Bill. A non-recurring expenditure of rupees two thousand crore is also likely to be involved.

Power to make rules.

15. The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The youth play a dominant role in the polity as well as in the development of a nation. Many revolutions in the world owe their success to the power of the youth and their determination. If the youth is not harnessed in a systematic way, they may be exploited by anti-social and anti-national forces which make them insurgents, terrorists, extortionists, dacoits, drug peddlers, kidnappers, thieves, etc. ever ready for bloodshed and heinous crimes against the humanity or even against their motherland. That is exactly what is happening in our country where the youth is facing severe unemployment and lack of other opportunities necessary to lead a good life. Even after more than five decades of our independence we do not have our own Youth Policy, which can cater to the needs and aspirations of the youth. Lack of educational facilities and employment opportunities mostly followed by sports, medical and other facilities are haunting the youth of the nation. These requirements of the youth have to be addressed through a Youth Policy with determination of the Central and State Governments to implement it vigorously and sincerely.

Hence this Bill.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The population of our country has already crossed one billion mark indicating that the rate of population growth in the country has assumed alarming proportions. Since Independence, population has increased by three times because in 1951 our population was only 33 crores. As a result today we are the second highest populous country after China on the globe. It has rightly been said in the context of our country that poverty results in the growth of population and population growth in turn increases poverty. This tremendous increase in population has given rise to many socio-economic problems like poverty, shortage of food and essential commodities, housing, educational facilities, potable water, civic amenities, health and transport facilities, unemployment and environmental degradation. This is also creating law and order problems and widening the gap between the haves and have nots which is making the situation explosive. In a family with limited resources, proper upbringing of children is possible only if the size of the family is limited.

If the present unprecedented increase in population continues it will not be possible for the country to keep a balance between the population growth and available opportunities and infrastructure. It has unfortunately been noticed that despite existence of various birth control measures and various family planning programmes, the problem of over population is still haunting us. Hence if we have to survive, no real impact can be made on population growth merely by creating a consciousness about family planning as long as that consciousness is not borne out by the day-to-day experiences of the masses. Stringent measures have to be introduced to control the population growth otherwise our future is certainly going to be doomed. Incentives for adopting small family norms and disincentives for violation of such norms have to be provided. Penal provisions have also become necessary. A separate Department of Population Control has to be created in the Government and a subject Population Control in School Curriculum for promoting small family norms has also to be provided. These measures will have the desired impact on the booming population of the nation.

Hence this Bill.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clause 6 of the Bill provides for incentives for practising small family norms. Clause 9 provides that the appropriate Government shall establish an exclusive Department of Population Control to deal with measures for population control. Clause 10 provides for the establishment of National Population Control Fund. The Bill, if enacted, will involve expenditure from Consolidated Fund of India. It is estimated that a sum of ten thousand crore rupees may involve as recurring expenditure per annum.

A non-recurring expenditure of rupees fifty crores may also involve.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 14 of the Bill gives power to the Central Government to make rules for carrying out the purposes of the Bill. The rules will relate to matters of details only.

The delegation of legislative power is of normal character.

X

BILL NO. XXXI OF 2005

A Bill further to amend the Constitution of India.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Fifty-sixth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

Short title,
and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Constitution (Amendment) Act, 2005.

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

Insertion of new article
21B.

2. After article 21 of the Constitution, the following article shall be inserted, namely:—

Right to housing.

21B (1) All citizens who do not own dwelling units of their own shall have the right to appropriate dwelling units for them and their families from the State.

(2) The State shall make available to every citizen not having a dwelling unit of his own or any member of his family who desires to have a dwelling unit of appropriate size for him and his family at affordable prices and the dwelling units shall have the necessary facilities to make a good living therein.

(3) The State shall formulate special housing scheme for the senior citizens, physically challenged ones, and citizens belonging to Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes, other Backward Classes and other weaker sections of the society.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Homelessness in the country is increasing day-by-day both in urban and rural areas due to booming population and other social and economic reasons. There is acute shortage of housing and millions of people live in the open braving the scorching heat of the summer, rains of the monsoon and chilling cold of the winter. In the cities, people can be seen living on footpaths, sheds of the bus stands, under flyovers and bridges, mainhole pipes and other open spaces with their families. Crores of families are forced to reside in desperately inadequate housing conditions like Jhuggi and Jhopri clusters, kucha and semi-pucca hutments in inhuman living conditions full of filth and stinking garbage and without basic amenities of water, electricity, sewerage, toilets, space, health facilities, etc. There are several Housing Boards and Authorities but for the citizens to have a house is becoming desperately longer and longer.

The Supreme Court has recognized right to housing by bringing it in the ambit of right to life. At the same time housing right has been recognized and reaffirmed in all international and regional covenants, which have been ratified by our country. Hence the Central and State Governments are under legal obligation to provide adequate housing to the needy citizens. Hence it has become more necessary to incorporate this right in the Constitution.

Hence this Bill.

R.K. ANAND

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clause 2 of the Bill gives right to housing as fundamental right to the citizens. Though the citizens will pay for the houses but the Bill if enacted will involve expenditure from the Consolidated Fund of India. Though the exact expenditure cannot be anticipated at this stage it is estimated that a sum of rupees one thousand crores per annum may involve as recurring expenditure.

Non recurring expenditure to the tune of ten thousand crores may also involve.

XI

BILL NO. XLVII OF 2005

A Bill further to amend the Constitution of India.

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Fifty-sixth Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Constitution (Amendment) Act, 2005.
- (2) It shall come into force with immediate effect.

Insertion of new article
275A.

2. After article 275 of the Constitution, the following article shall be inserted namely:—

Grants from the Union to the State of Assam.

"275A. Notwithstanding anything in Article 275 of the Constitution, there shall be paid out of the Consolidated Fund of India such grants-in-aid of the revenues of Assam as may be considered necessary for the special development of the State and for promotion of infrastructure so as to generate adequate employment opportunities and investment in the said sector:

Provided that such grants-in-aid shall be in addition to the annual allocations made by the Planning Commission to Assam and all other schemes of assistance from the Government of India:

Provided further that the scheme referred to under this article shall be reviewed on the expiry of every three years from the commencement of this Constitution (Amendment) Act".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The State of Assam has been facing acute resources crunch for the past several years. This has been one of the main reason for not implementing various schemes in the social sectors. The money granted by the Central Government has not been adequate to meet the expenditure in this regard. The speedy development of the State is in the overall interest of the country because without development, there will be less employment generation and the lack of adequate employment opportunities will lead to discontentment, unrest and terrorism. It is, therefore, proposed to amend the Constitution to provide for additional Central help to expedite Assam's Development.

Hence this Bill.

KARNENDU BHATTACHARJEE

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clause 2 of the Bill provides for the payment of such grants-in-aid of the revenues of Assam as may be considered necessary for the special development of the State and to promote infrastructure so as to generate adequate employment opportunities and investment in the said sector. The Bill, therefore, if enacted, would involve expenditure from the Consolidated Fund of India.

However, without an appraisal of the position of the State, the amount of investment required cannot be estimated at this juncture.

YOGENDRA NARAIN,
Secretary-General.
